

HARVARD UNIVERSITY

Advancing the Status of Women in a Globalizing Japan: A 70-Year Retrospective

Thursday, May 7, 1:00-5:00 p.m.

Belfer Case Study Room (S020), Japan Friends of Harvard Concourse,
CGIS South Building, 1730 Cambridge Street, Cambridge MA

Sponsored by
Showa Women's University;
Showa Boston Institute for Language and Culture;
Program on U.S.-Japan Relations, Weatherhead Center for International Affairs;
Edwin O. Reischauer Institute of Japanese Studies

Symposium Description

The end of the Pacific War ushered in a period of unprecedented freedom for women in Japan. In 1945, they did not even enjoy the right to vote. Seventy years later, “Womenomics,” or the equalization of gender roles in the work force, is an integral part of Prime Minister Abe’s policies to revitalize the Japanese economy. This symposium will examine how women’s economic, social, and political status has advanced in postwar Japan, and what obstacles remain.

1:00 – 1:20 p.m.

Opening Remarks

Mariko Bando

Chancellor and President, Showa Women's University, and former Director General, Bureau for Gender Equality

Keynote Speech

Seiko Noda

Member, House of Representatives, and former Minister of Posts and Telecommunications

1:20 – 2:45 p.m.

Panel 1: 70 Years of Change in Women's Roles

Speakers:

Mariko Bando

Chancellor and President, Showa Women's University, and former Director General, Bureau for Gender Equality

Sumiko Iwao

Professor Emeritus, Keio University and Musashi Institute of Technology, and author of 'The Japanese Woman'

Margarita Estévez-Abe

Associate Professor of Political Science, Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs, Syracuse University

Moderator:

Susan Pharr

Edwin O. Reischauer Professor of Japanese Politics, Department of Government, and Director, Program on U.S.-Japan Relations, Harvard University

2:45 – 3:00 p.m.

Break

3:00 – 4:45 p.m.

Panel 2: Recent Strategies to Increase Participation in Decision-Making and Management

Speakers:

Kathy Matsui
Chief Japan Equity Strategist, Goldman Sachs, and Originator of “Womonomics”

Naohiro Yashiro
Professor, Faculty of Global Business, Shoin Women’s University, and former President, Japan Center for Economic Research

Glen Fukushima
Senior Fellow, Center for American Progress, and former President, American Chamber of Commerce in Japan

Moderator:

Mary Brinton
Reischauer Institute Professor of Sociology and Chair, Department of Sociology, Harvard University

4:45 – 5:00 p.m.

Closing Remarks

Tsutomu Himeno
Consul General of Japan in Boston

5:00 – 6:00 p.m.

Reception